

We are hiring
Consultants (m/f)
on all levels!

We want you!

We are looking for Consultants who want to join and support the growth of Ginkgo Management Consulting not only in numbers but also regarding intellectual capabilities. Supported by our Partners and Senior Managers all Consultants will receive any advice required on the job. Additionally, all our Consultants have the opportunity to personally impact on the company's development and prosper on projects while enjoying a balanced work life as well.

Requirements

Besides a personal fit we demand high standards of our candidates, linked to the individual seniority level:

- Excellent university degree (Bachelor, Master, MBA, PhD)
- A minimum of two years consulting experience, preferably in one of the renowned strategy consultancies (exceptions possible for outstanding graduates)
- Exceptional analytical thinking and problem-solving skills; strategic mind-set
- Very good communication skills; commitment to high standards and our core company values
- Ability to focus on details while considering the big picture
- High level of passion and dedication; entrepreneurial spirit, flexibility, and hands-on mentality
- In-depth knowledge of consulting concepts
- A background in IT is beneficial
- Fluent in German and English

Ginkgo Management Consulting believes in open and straight forward communication driven by a strong team spirit. Core values such as client orientation, job commitment, trust, and integrity are prerequisites. A home base in Hamburg is not necessary but will be beneficial to catch the Ginkgo spirit.

Interested?

If you are interested and qualified for the job described please send your CV and motivation letter via email to Anne Friedericke Nilsson, career@ginkgo.com. In case you have any questions please contact us directly: +49 40 809 081 172. We look forward to hearing from you!

